4000 GROWERS HEARD SAPIRO LAST WEEK

Speedy Success of Co-operative Marketing Plan, Seems Assured, Say Organizers

More than 4,500 persons vitally interested in the success of the burley tobacco industry, heard Aaron Sapiro last week during his tour of the blue grass in behalf of the co-operative marketing plan now being offered to the growers.

At places where he spoke, a growing sentiment in favor of co-operation was marked, while the active work of signing contracts was launched with great enthusiasm in each county.

Members of the organization committee declare that the prospects for speedy success are excellent.

At Shelbyville, where Mr. Sapiro opened the campaign Monday afternoon, June 13, more than 1,500,000 pounds of tobacco were signed up for the association in less than an hour. Under the supervision of B. A. Thomas, C. L. Walters, and other prominent growers of Shelby county, the work of signing up has been carried on vigorously since, and the total number of pounds considerably increased. Mr. Sapiro crowded the court room here, with growers eager to hear his outline of the co-operative plan.

Mr. Sapiro spoke at Richmond Tuesday afternoon, before a very enthusiastic crowd. It had not intended to sign contracts at this meeting, but the growers were insistent and more than 385,000 pounds were pledged in a very few minutes. T. S. Burnam, the local chairman, will be assisted in the work of promoting the organization in Madison county, by Harvey Chenault, Waller Bennett, H. B. Hanger, H. B. Hanger, Jr., J. J. Neale, Wm. Arbuckle, T. J. Curtis, Paul Burnam and others.

Under the leadership of W. E. Sims, a meeting was called in Versailles Tuesday night to hear Mr. Sapiro. No effort was made to obtain signatures, as the contract at this meeting on account of the lateness of the hour when the meeting adjourned. Mr. Sapiro was heard with attention by about 600 leading growers of Woodford county. Mr. Sims will perfect a county organization with the assistance of Johnson N. Camden, also member of the organization committee.

Mr. Sapiro went Wednesday to Cynthiana where he addressed the most enthusiastic meeting of the series. He was interrupted by repeated and prolonged cheers of approval as he made points in favor of co-operative movements for farmers and growers. J. R. Jones presided at this meeting. No attempt was made to obtain signatures for the contract, as this was the first meeting held in Harrison county. But many prominent growers of that section were so eager to sign that they insisted on members of the organization committee ransacking their pockets for copies of the contract. J. Quincy Ward is serving as temporary chairman for that county.

The fifth meeting of the week was held at Maysville, where J. N. Kehoe had largely prepared the way for Mr. Sapiro. More than 670,000 pounds of tobacco were signed up for the association in less than half an hour. County organization is practically completed in Mason county, and no difficulty is expected in reaching the minimum of 75 percent. Mr. Sapiro went from Maysville to White Sulphur Springs, Va., where he spoke before a meeting of the Virginia State Bankers Association on the co-operative plan of marketing.

Judge Robert W. Bingham, of Louisville, chairman of the organization committee, substituted for Mr. Sapiro at a meeting held at Danville Friday night. More than 250 growers heard him at a meeting in the court house. Contracts were distributed, but no effort was made to obtain signatures at such a late hour. Col. R. G. Evans presided at the meeting.

Mr. Sapiro wound up his educational tour of Kentucky with a large meeting at Lexington Saturday afternoon in the Woodland Auditorium. It is estimated that about 1,500 persons heard this address. When a vote was called for, it was practically unanimous in favor of the proposed plan.

Large delegations came to this meeting from Clark, Nicholas, Bourbon, Jessamine, Madison, Scott, Woodford and other neighboring counties. Louis Lee Haggin, owner of one of the largest farms in Fayette county, was the first man to sign the contract. Contracts were distributed but he growers were not asked to sign. The whole impression of the tour, which was designed to put the message of co-operation before the growers by a master of the subject, was uniformly thought to be distinctly favorable.

It will be followed by a series of smaller meetings in each of the counties where organization has been started. Joseph Passonneau has announced. At the same time organization is being extended into new counties and new states by the organization committee.

Ralph M. Barker, of Carrollton, has arranged meetings at Warsaw, Ky., June 25, at Vevay, Ind., July 2, at New Castle, Ky., July 9, and at Bedford, Ky., July 16. Other dates have been requested by Kentucky and Indiana towns, but no definite announcements have been made.

DAWES GOES AFTER 'EM ROUGH SHOD

Says Congress Has Provided "Pitiful Machinery" To Carry Out New Budget System

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 23—Charles G. Dawes, chosen by President Harding to head the new government Budget System, announced today after a conference with the President that he would call on a number of experienced business men to serve in the budget bureau without pay, because he considered the staff provided by Congress wholly inadequate. Dawes declared in a statement that if the budget system was to be a success reliance must be placed on "some thing else than the pitiful machinery provided by law. One might as well be handed a tooth pick," the statement said, "with which to tunnel Pikes Peak." Dawes said it is inconceivable that any bureau chief should handicap the new general directing agency to deal with government expenditures. "No penalty can be too severe or too inexorably pressed," he said, "if opposition should anywhere develop."

Having represented this district on a former Court in this capacity I refer the voters to my past record in this office, and if elected, will, to the best of my ability, discharge the duties of the office justly and impartially and for the best interests of the people of the district and the county.

In seeking this office, which pays no salary, it is my purpose, if elected to do everything possible for the improvements of the roads in my district, and the county, and to secure an economical expenditure of public funds so far as is in my power and to perform all the duties of the office with justice to everyone. I solicit the vote and influence of every voter in the district, and will appreciate any support given me in the primary, August 6th. Very respectfully,

HERE'S A GOOD GAME READY FOR FRIDAY

The long wished for and interesting game between the First Christians and Methodists is going to be played Friday on the Normal grounds. Sam Reid, the star Methodist twirler, who has been going at a great clip lately, is going to be on the mound for the Second street church. He has humbled the Eastern sluggers and has pitched his last three games in great form. He will not have the support, however, that he had against the Normal. One thing in the Methodist favor is that Douglas, the most steady First Christian hurler, worked against the Catholics Wednesday, and may not be able to pitch again Friday. A large crowd is expected to be out for the game which gives promise to be one of the best played in the league so far.

Absent Voters Can't Take Part In Primary

Absent voters will not be permitted to vote in the primary according to an opinion of Attorney General Charles L. Dawson, who holds that the privilege was extended to absent voters for the general election only. The opinion of the attorney general was made verbally today, as he has received numerous letters asking if the absent voter law applies to the primary as well as the general election.

Before leaving Denby's office, Sims handed a written statement to Denby, who has it under consideration, meanwhile withholding the text.

MODEL GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Prof. Riley, of Transylvania, Urges All To Now Prepare To Take a College Course

Sixteen Model High School students had their last ties severed from that institution and received their diplomas at very beautiful commencement exercises held at the Normal chapel Wednesday evening. Professor Edgar C. Riley, of Transylvania University, was the speaker of the evening and delivered an effective address to the parents and friends of Model High. He encouraged all the members of the class to attend some college. He said college was the index to one's life work and this should be consulted. He also advised every member of the class to make a careful choice of his or her life work and prepare thoroughly for it. In making his selection he said he that he once asked a small boy what a preacher was and was told a preacher was a man hired to help the women run the church.

In speaking of the wealth of Kentucky he said that if all of Kentucky's hogs were one hog, this great pig could put one foot in Cuba, the other in Porto Rico and have a tail big enough to dust off the League of Nations for Harding's signature.

Professor Riley also advised the graduates to choose some work in which they might render a service to mankind. He said that he was once going thru a forest to a small town and as he drove through there were roads branching in all directions. When he reached the town he told the garage man that he did not know how he ever happened to take the right road. The man told him that it did not make much difference which road he took for they all came to the same end, which was this little town. He said he wanted to impress this upon all the graduates, that it would not make so much difference which road they took, just so they were successful in the end.

The following graduates received diplomas from President Coates: Henry Arnold, Grace Brady, Goldie Brown, William Blanton, Margaret Chenault, Coleman Covington, Margaret Doty, Clarence Deatherage, Geneva Ford, John Jayne, Diana Lackey, Margaret Lane, Florence Lane, Abbie Dean Ray, Lucy Treadway and Ollie Tye Williams.

President Coates also expressed a desire that all of the graduates should attend college.

The Model High School students rendered three numbers under the direction of Dr. S. S. Myers, which were enjoyed very much.

The following program was rendered:

Willie Meehan Knocked Out

Cleveland, June 23—Tommy Gibbons, of St. Paul, knocked out Willie Meehan, of California, in the first round of a bout that was scheduled to go 12 rounds to a decision. Meehan went down three times.

The first trip to the canvas came as the result of the fat boy receiving one of Gibbons' punches in the ribs. On rising Meehan came in contact with a punch to the jaw and went down again. For a second time Willie became erect and then the end came when Gibbons shot one over square in the middle of the forehead, the blow going with terrific force, breaking the skin and sending Meehan to the land of nod.

This is the first time Meehan was ever knocked out, and is Gibbons' twelfth straight knockout. att Hinkel was referee.

BAPTISTS' WORK IN HOME MISSIONS

Notable Progress Made Among Negroes and Indians, Convention Report Shows

(By Associated Press)

Des Moines, Iowa, June 23.—Notable progress in educational work among negroes and Indians in this country and among the people of Central America, the opening of an international Baptist Seminary to train preachers for work among foreign-speaking people, establishment of a boys' camp applying the "Plattsburg idea" to religious training, and creation of an architectural bureau to help make religious buildings more effective, were among features of the 89th annual report of the American Baptist Home Mission Society, presented by Dr. C. L. White, executive secretary, at the Northern Baptist convention here today.

Schools for negroes and Indians have been taxed at their utmost capacity, according to Dr. George R. Hovey, of the educational department. Through gifts from the General Education Board and John D. Rockefeller, the salary of teachers in these schools is being increased and new buildings provided at Bacon Indian College, Bacone, Okla., Ga. Indians of Oklahoma have given $175,000 to aid Bacon school. Need for further extension of this educational work is urgent, declares Dr. Charles A. Brooke, in charge of negro missions. An intense race consciousness is furnishing a perplexing problem for the negro churches. Training of young people for more adequate service in church and community centers is one help to the solution of this problem.

In the United States, says Dr. Lemuel Call Barnes, the society is co-operating in 166 towns and cities in missionary and church extension work. Recommendation is made for more aggressive organization for smaller cities. In sparsely settled areas six general missionaries, 43 assistants, and 169 missionary pastors have had charge of 220 churches and covered a vast territory where there is no church. There are 15 Indian missionaries working among their own people. Reclamation projects in the northwest, says Dr. Barnes, foreshadow a big task along missionary lines in the near future.

Among the foreign born an attitude of bitterness, due to suspiciousness and indiscriminate charges of radicalism, to the coming of prohibition and propaganda about Sunday restrictions, Dr. Brooks reports, has hampered Americanization. However, on the Pacific coast, much has been accomplished among Orientals, workers being sent among Chinese and Hindus. Mexicans too have responded well, and a Mexican department of the International Seminary has been opened in Los Angeles. In the training of leaders from other lands, Dr. Brooks says, the International Seminary will solve many present difficulties.

Thirteen Christian religious education, social centers are now in operation, supported jointly by the two Home Mission Societies. Ten others are definitely planned and five others are conditional upon financial conditions.

Churches are recognizing community obligations, reports Rollix Harlan, and in several cities community workers are being employed. Laymen are also organizing for voluntary service of this sort. Surveys are being made in several migratory labor groups of opportunities for religious and social service; also of hospitals and homes controlled by the denomination. Schools for rural pastors, just instituted during the last year are shown to be valuable. Increased use of automobiles to enable pastors to cover more territory is also found to help. Need of training for more

This Boy's On The Job

A motorist touring in the western counties, where though the scenery is beautiful, the roads are bad, managed to get his car stuck in a tenacious mudhole.

After he made vain attempts to escape a boy appeared with a team.

"Haul you out, mister?"

"How much do you want?"

"Two dollars."

After a long and fruitless argument the motorist agreed to pay the amount asked and the car was pulled to dry land.

After handing the money to the lad the motorist asked:

"Do you haul many cars out in a day?"

"I've pulled out twelve today."

"Do you work at night, too?"

"Yes, at night I haul water for the mudhole."

Two gentlemen were riding on a train both very much intoxicated.

First Gent—"What time is it?"

Second Gent (after extracting a match-box from his pocket with much exertion and gazing at it intently)—"Thursday."

Boy Hit By Rock Which Had Fallen From Cliff

Harrodsburg, Ky., June 22—Earl Rue, 14 years old, son of Joel Rue, was probably fatally hurt Sunday afternoon when at High Bridge. He was walking from Kentucky river bank to the park at the top of a cliff 300 feet when someone above dislodged or threw down a large rock that struck him and fractured his skull. He fell about 15 feet and was later taken to a Lexington hospital. The park was full of excursionists.

RICHMOND IN YE OLDEN TME

Is Seen Through Columns of "Farmers Chronicle" Published Here In July, 1833

An old Richmond paper called "Farmer's Chronicle" was brought to the Daily Register office by a friend the other day. It contains many interesting items of the early days. The paper was published by Joseph Turner on Tuesday, July 16, 1833. It is made up of four pages of six columns each.

Cholera cases and deaths were causing great excitement among the citizens of the town at the time. Four of the six columns on the front page are taken up with the subject of "cholera treatment." Three things are discussed under this: the prevention, the treatment and the cure for cholera. Twelve statements were given in an article headed "What is a Federalist?" One of the strongest was given in this way: "If you do not believe Col. Johnson killed Tecumseh, you are a Federalist."

Most of the second page is filled with articles copied from other papers.

The Fourth of July celebration in that year is described as being of unusual splendor. A great procession passed through the main part of town and ended at the Methodist church.

In a conspicuous place in the paper, Richard Broadus, a farmer, living six miles from Richmond, is offering $30 for the capture of a runaway slave named Adam. Notices are given of the sale of the belongings of Charles Selby.

A number of legal notices in this yellow old paper are signed by David Irvine, who was then clerk of the Madison circuit court and whose picture now hangs in the Madison circuit court room. Notices are given in the paper of suits filed against other people by stating their names and charges against them in heavy print.

Scores of notices of cases filed in the circuit courts of the surrounding counties may be found in the old paper.

All kinds of things are advertised in the paper but not with as large a display as they are today.

Howard and Christopher advertise that "have just received and are now opening a large and splendid assortment of French, English, German, Italian, India and domestic goods," and that they wish to purchase 10,000 lb. of feathers, ginseng and beeswax.

Levi F. Bowen advertises that he has "been appointed to succeed Mr. Bradley as Preceptor of the Madison Academy," and he informs the citizens of Richmond and vicinity that "the above institution will be opened for the reception of students in the various branches of English and Classical literature on Monday, the 8th day of July next." His notice is dated June 15, 1833.

Field and Holloway advertise that they have "made an arrangement with Messrs. Oldham, Todd & Co., to keep on hand their cotton yarns."

Benjamin R. Jenkins notifies the public through the advertising columns of the ancient sheet that "having purchased the well known tavern establishment in the town of Richmond, Kentucky, formerly kept by Col. George Shackelford, and recently by Mr. Charles G. Brooks, intends shortly to have the same thoroughly repaired and pledges himself to render his house not only comfortable but agreeable to all who may favor him with a call, etc."

Here is the announcement of a doctor:

DOCTOR LEAVEL

Having been absent for four or five months, attending the Medical Lectures in the Philadelphia Alms House Infirmary, Hospital and University of Pennsylvania (in which he graduated), has returned to Richmond, and continues to practice Medicine in partnership with Dr. Walker. Business confided to either will receive their joint attention. They occupy the same SHOP they did last year, on Main Street, second door above Major William Jones' store.

McClanahan and Stone are advertising a new stock of spring and summer dry goods, hardware, and groceries.

Williams and Miller also a new stock of dry goods, hardware, queensware, and groceries. They are willing to buy flax seed and feathers.

B. B. Marsh advertises clocks, watches, spoons, and jewelry for sale, and warrants that any watches repaired by him will "perform well."

William Rhodes & Co., are offering cash for hemp at the market price, delivered at the Woodlawn Hemp Factory.

In this old paper is given a letter to Daniel Webster by a committee representing the people of Cincinnati inviting him to a public dinner to be held at their city. His answer is also in the paper. He explains that this trip will be his first one west and that his object is to see as much of the country as possible. He accepts the invitation with pleasure and promises to be certain to attend the dinner.

PAIGE

The Most Beautiful Car in America

How Much Should You Pay For a Fine Car?

So far as prices are concerned, the Paige 6-66 is quite obviously the greatest dollar-for-dollar value on the American market. It is not only legitimately priced, but it is actually selling for from one to three thousand dollars less than its nearest competitors.

We respect this competition but as business men must insist that the discrepancy is altogether unjustified. Unless 6-66 prices are vastly increased, the higher priced cars must ultimately reduce. This appears to be the only fair and sensible conclusion.

At any rate, please consider this one fact: You can today buy a Paige car with a sense of absolute security because you are buying on the new readjustment level. There can be no sudden depreciation of your investment—no "price cuts" to meet competitive standards.

Paige is at rock bottom in price and peak position in quality. For that reason it is a safe, sane and profitable investment.

JAP BALL TEAM HAS SUCCESSFUL TOUR

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 23—The Waseda University baseball team of Tokyo, Japan, which has just started a second invasion of the eastern states on its fourth quadrennial tour, left Chicago with a percentage of 337 in games won, but had almost an even break on points scored, with 62 runs for 63 for their opponents. In the hit column, the Japanese outnumbered their opponents 112 to 104.

The Japanese have played practically every large college and university team in the country since they landed in San Francisco on April 30. All of their games have been close, no opponent scoring more than nine runs in a game, while Waseda took Northwestern to a neat trimming of 17 to 1. The Japs lost to Harvard, Yale, Illinois and Pennsylvania by one point in each game.

Baseball, as played by Americans, is exactly the same as played in Japan, but the teams are, as a whole, much faster, according to M. Nakamura, manager and scorekeeper of the Waseda nine. "And your western teams are stronger than the eastern ones," he said. "Illinois has a much stronger team than Harvard or Yale, I think."

When the Japanese team completes the second trip through the eastern states the men will return to Seattle where they will be the guests of the University of Washington for 10 days before sailing for Japan on July 14. This is the first trip abroad for the present team, although Waseda has previously sent three teams to America, paying a return visit the year following the University of Chicago's Japanese tour every four years.

The team is accompanied by Prof. I. Abe, known as the "Father of Baseball in Japan," who is dean of the department of political science at Waseda, and H. B. Benninghoff, an American, and professor of political science, who is acting as business manager.

Don't forget to pay your City Licenses before July 1. 146tf

'BANDIT QUEEN' TELLS OF LIFE

Reveals Romances Which Led to Her Arrest as Instigator of $23,000 Robbery.

HELD IN CORD OF CRIME

Left Home at 13 and Since Then Has Struck Out Against World—Rivals Fought for Her Hand When She Was Kitchenmaid.

Lead, S. D.—From the life of a kitchenmaid in Lead to the role of an alleged bandit queen, who inspired the $23,000 bank robbery which occurred in Denver recently, has been the experience of Edna Bock, who passed several years here.

The girl is twenty-three years old. While she was living in Lead several fights were started between young men who were rivals for her hand.

After leaving Lead the girl continued her romantic conquests, and it is said a man was killed in Minneapolis last fall because of her. The $23,000 bank robbery in Denver was brought on because of the extravagant tastes of the girl and the man with whom she has now been living. They were arrested in a fashionable Denver residence.

An interview published in the Denver Post follows:

Edna Carroll, the alleged "bandit queen," who answers to three other names equally droll, including that of "Mickey," is twenty-three years old.

Hustled a Living.

For ten years this girl, companion of Thomas J. Coleman, one of the three men who robbed Stockyards National bank employees of $23,000, has been what she calls "hustling" a living, and in those ten years she has added to inherited memories a mass of wisdom concerning good and evil.

At twenty-three this girl with the bright coloring, black hair and level gazing eyes has the lives of two men linked to her own with the cord of crime, the police say.

One of these, R. E. Cavanaugh, she thought so much of that she bought the wedding ring for the third finger of her left hand and wore it when she consented to "heat the town and go away with him for better or worse." Cavanaugh, a mechanic, was killed in Minneapolis last year, and Miss Carroll, her wedding ring still gleaming from her finger, returned to Denver.

"Then I met Coleman," she said. "He sat at the same table with me in a restaurant, and, since in my set we don't wait for introductions, we began to talk, and as he was the second man I've met that I wanted to marry I agreed to give up my business and go with him. We had great plans. These plans included things I had never thought of before."

Then Edna "Mickey" Carroll digressed and told what life had been up to the time she met Coleman, the dapper, dandy "oil broker," at the cafe.

"First off, I wish to remark that I have no use for women," she said, with a thin smile that challenged a retort. "I never knew one that would not double-cross you sooner or later, and most always sooner. My aunt gave me my first impression of what women really are. I was born in South Dakota and got tired of living at home and at thirteen I left and went to Lead to work as a housemaid."

"There I earned $15 a month and got roasted for everything I did and did not do."

Look Easiest Way.

"I decided that this sort of work didn't agree with me, and as I had not been educated to do any other kind I took the easiest way."

"Easiest?" was asked.

"Not always; most times terribly hard," she answered.

"I made a lot of money and saved it, and sometimes I shared it with a sick pal. But by the time I met Coleman I had saved $3,000, with which I bought the automobile they're making so much fuss over. That was my money. I earned it and not a cent was his."

"Tom always seemed to have plenty of money, and as he suggested that we would rent a house for a little while, buy a car and later go away and set ourselves up in a rooming house that would bring us in an income I didn't see any need of taking off my wedding ring."

"I'd dreamed of a home, a husband, good clothes and a car and a maid to wait on us. The dream came true. And when, on our first evening at home, a neighbor called as we were at dinner, the dream was too good to last. Yesterday Tom told me he had bought a suit of clothes at a downtown store and asked me if I would go and get it for him. When I got back to the house things had blown up and here I am."

All in the Day's Work.

Ashland, Ky.—Frank Forson, fireman on the A. C. & I. railroad, is entitled to a hero medal. When Ed Crawford, engineer of the fast train, sent his engine around a curve he was horrified to see a baby standing in the middle of the track. It was too late to stop even though he threw on the brakes. Forson grasped the situation, ran out on the pilot, swung himself down and grasped the child as the iron wheels approached, and lifted it to safety. The engine was brought to a standstill fifty feet further on and the baby turned over to the frantic mother, who had witnessed the rescue from afar.

FIRST CHRISTIANS WIN ANOTHER

Take Catholics Into Camp By 5 to 0 In Ragged Game Wednesday Afternoon

Club	W	L	Pct
First Christians	7	1	.875
Baptists	5	3	.625
Presbyterians	4	4	.500
Second Christians	4	4	.500
Methodists	2	6	.250
Catholics	1	4	.200

(By E. T. Higgins)

Douglas pitched the First Christians to their seventh straight victory Wednesday, in a win over the Catholic nine on the Normal grounds. He pitched sterling ball throughout the contest and showed no signs of weakening. In the eighth inning the first three men reached base but Douglas tightened and got the first two on easy chances. C. Rogers went to sleep on third but was awakened in time to pitch the next inning. Douglas had the Catholics eating out of his hand. The only time they threatened was in the eighth inning just mentioned.

A total of seventeen errors was made in this shut-out game. From this any one would think all or most of these were made by the defeated Catholics, but the First Christians contributed seven of the total number which is more than usual for them.

Walser and Barnett made fine stops of difficult ground balls on short and "Pink" O'Neil contributed a fancy one-hand catch in the sun-garden to thrill the spectators who gave him a warm hand on all his trips to the plate.

The only extra base blow was a lengthy triple to left field by Barnett in the ninth inning after two were out. He was left on third as the next batter grounded to C. Rogers.

Reeves who caught for the Methodists played the poorest ball he has displayed this season. Rogers seemed to have too much stuff for Reeves let several balls get away from him.

Somebody ought to stop these birds and make the race a bit more interesting. The score:

Lenine Making Bid For Near East Support

(By Associated Press)

Riga, Latvia, June 23.—Recent arrivals from Moscow declare that the world little realizes how closely Soviet Russia is pushing its friendship with the Near East.

In Moscow now the Turkish legation occupies one of the most sumptuous of the old palaces and the personnel, garbed in faultless European clothes, present a very strange contrast to the poorly garbed Muscovites. The Afghans and other Near Eastern delegations also occupy luxurious quarters, give elaborate banquets and otherwise carry on with all the pomp of the old Eastern courts. Members of Lenine's government are frequently guests at these affairs and entertain the legation personnels equally lavishly in return.

Lloyd George has suggested a modification of the London-Tokyo treaty to suit the United States.

YANK PRINCESS MAY BE QUEEN

Widow of Ralph Thomas May See Husband Acclaimed King of Albania.

LOSES HEART TO PRINCE

Princess Viora is Granddaughter of Eugene Kelly, Millionaire New York Banker—Her First Husband Was Frank Jay Gould.

New York.—Princess Viora, formerly Mrs. Helen Kelly Gould and more recently Mrs. Ralph Thomas, may be the first American to be addressed as "Your majesty."

If she attains the throne of Albania, as seems possible, she bids fair to eclipse socially Princess Anastasia of Greece, formerly Mrs. William B. Leeds, who, through her marriage to Prince Christopher of Greece, has climbed the royal ladder higher than any other American woman.

Princess Viora is in New York "on business," while her royal consort, Prince Viora, is at their house in Paris arranging plans to ascend the throne of his grandfather.

The father of Viora, Ferid Pasha, is prime minister to Abdul Hamid, and is working quietly with Turkish leaders.

She Prefers Paris.

"What will you do in Albania, where most of the men are polygamists and addicted to bloody feuds?" I asked her in her apartment in the Hotel Lenore. "I don't know," she said, smiling, "perhaps remain most of the time in my Paris home with my two children—Helen, who's nineteen, and Dorothy, who's seventeen—who are now in school in Switzerland."

The princess was Helen Margaret Kelly, granddaughter of the millionaire New York banker, Eugene Kelly. She was married at eighteen to Frank Jay Gould and after divorcing him married Ralph Thomas, son of the sugar king. After a brief married life, he died suddenly in 1914, leaving her several millions.

During the war she sailed for Paris, where she became a war nurse. While recuperating in Switzerland, she told me she met Prince Viora, who was brooding over the fate of Albania and meditating schemes for its restoration.

Loses Her Heart.

"He told me sad stories of Albania," she continued, "of its wild scenery and the picturesqueness of its people. He was a delightful chap and I confess that I lost my heart to him. We were married quietly."

"Whether the prince will become king of Albania is not certain. It is well known in diplomatic circles that the problem of finding a satisfactory ruler is a hard one. The prince is the natural ruler and is mapping out his course in Paris and London now."

"Albania is the roughest country in the Balkans, a country of wild mountains, entirely without railroads. The only towns are situated on the coast of the Adriatic. The entire population is less than 1,500,000."

"The people consist mainly of fierce mountaineers, walking arsenals of rifles and knives. They are Mohammedans in religion and confirmed polygamists."

The princess explained that shortly before the war Prince William of Wied, with German and Austrian backing, succeeded in getting installed as king of Albania at Durrazzo. He never succeeded, she said, in winning the allegiance of the mountaineers, because Essad Pasha and local chieftains were hostile to him. So he returned to Germany. Since then the Italians have occupied most of Albania and joined hands with the allies, operating from Saloniki.

"I am here to assist my husband in my own way," Princess Viora said. "If he wants the throne he can have it."

"I am very much in love with him and will help him all I can, but I think I would prefer to spend most of my time in Paris."

"My mission here is to rest and to see certain friends on certain matters of importance."

ARTIST ONLY 18 MONTHS OLD

Two of Baby's Studies Exhibited in London Display of Drawing Society.

Cardiff, Wales.—Helen Williams of South Wales is stated to be the world's youngest artist. Her claim to this distinction is that, although she is only eighteen months old, she sits up in her cot every day and with a pencil and drawing board sketches the things that adorn her nursery.

Two of her studies from memory are being exhibited at the annual exhibition of the Royal Drawing society in London. Her pictures are an outline of a cat with a ribbon bow and a running gamecock.

Lapland Rich in Minerals.

Stockholm.—The Swedish geologists who made a survey of Lapland's mineral wealth by direction of parliament report that they discovered extensive copper deposits. One vein is more than fifty yards wide and of considerable thickness. A mountain of potter's clay was found near Silverberg and Dikanas. Near Stroommaes are rich lime and cement deposits.

Gasoline is back to the prewar price of 23 cents a gallon.

Hydrated Lime for Whitewash

WHITEWASH—is a sanitary and refreshing application for Poultry Houses, Out Houses, Cellars, or Stables. It will help the stranger on the roads at night by making sharp curves, if applied to nearby fences and trees. It will help the children in healthful sports by marking the baseball diamond or the tennis court.

A SIMPLE FORMULA FOR WHITEWASH

In a 10-quart bucket, 3-4 filled with water, dissolve 2 lbs of common table salt. Stir to hasten solution.

When the salt has dissolved, add slowly 10 pounds of Hydrated Lime with constant stirring. Continue stirring until all lumps are broken and the mixture has the consistency of smooth cream.

Allow the mixture to stand overnight or a few days, keeping the bucket covered. Stir the contents occasionally. When ready to use, stir thoroughly and add sufficient water to make a good workable whitewash.

Apply with a brush or spray pump, spreading it lightly over the surface without attempting to work it in, as is the custom with oil paints. If used in a spray pump, strain through fine cheesecloth into the pump reservoir to avoid clogging the nozzle.

Above formula will make about 4 gallons of whitewash. On fairly clean, smooth surfaces, this amount should cover—on brick walls, about 700 sq. ft.; on wooden surfaces, about 900 sq. ft.; on plaster partitions, about 1,100 sq. ft.

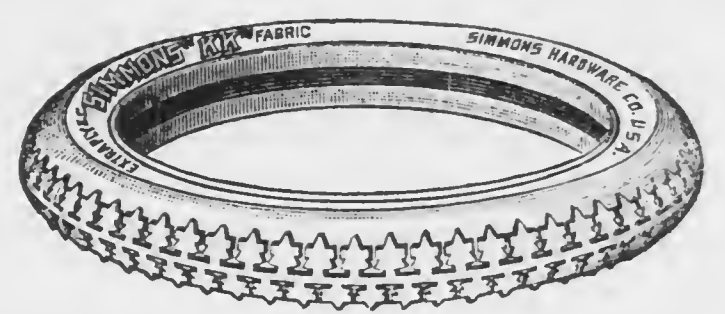

Gager's Hydrated Lime is sold in 50-lb. paper bags.
